Presentation: The Art and Science of Restoration

Speakers:

Patrick Jorski

Parking and Restoration Specialist

Eddie De Haro

Commercial Sales Building and Restoration Specialist

Building a sustainable future begins with restoring our past. Preserving architecture through building restoration is a sustainable, responsible use of resources. What is sustainable construction if not preserving what we've already built?

This course takes a look at the unique challenges related to building restoration. It will discuss common problems buildings face, the impact of moisture penetration and explore effective solutions for restoring and protecting building facades. The program will conclude with a discussion on best practices and the importance of selecting compatible materials.

President's Message

Ronald Ishmael, P.E.

We hope everyone is remaining safe and learning how to adjust to our new normal. The board really hoped we could get together and enjoy reconnecting but want to make sure our members our safe. We hope to reconnect in the future. Any feedback on how we can better serve you to the board would be great.

We will have more information to share next month. Stay safe.
